PAWS FOR THOUGHT

Well, only seven and a bit weeks to Christmas!

Having arrived back from yet another social-packed walk with my humans, I needed a little breather to contemplate my Santa Paws list! So far, I have decided on a 50-piece cow ear pack (easier on the waistline than pig ears and I have promised to share with my sister, Daisy) and just a half-kilo pack of liver strips – after all, I need to be good having devoured the Spanish left shoe belonging to my mum! But I digress....

Thank you to everyone who sent back their questionnaires regarding the 2014 Open and Champ shows. The survey results are detailed a few pages in.

Also, the way more exciting news is that our FACEBOOK presence has been launched! Thunderbirds go! Actually, a huge thanks to Telly who has done the hard yards to make this possible. A snapshot and some details regarding Facebook are included later on.

The longed-for website will be hopefully undergoing committee review at the next meeting to be launched mid-November. When it goes live, we will make sure everyone knows about it.

Both these projects have or are being done on a voluntary basis to minimise the cost to the club and as with all things voluntary, sometimes there are delays.

We are also now have North and South Island reps on board so that we can get a feel for what is happening nationwide and Telly has been kind enough to contribute the first column for us from the depths of the South Island.

In the next magazine, we will doing an update from the North Island as well as an update of the Samoyed Rescue Service (success and/or otherwise), a piece of history regarding the first Samoyed to win a National title in New Zealand plus a whole heap of Christmas wishes.

Mr Dickens

Survey Results

You may recall that a survey was sent out with the last magazine regarding the preferred day for the 2014 Championship and Open Shows and also some general questions about the years after 2014. The results were:

Question 1: Timing of the 2014 Shows

Option 1: Friday, 30th May 2014	82.4%
Option 2: Monday, 2nd June 2014	17.6%

Question 2: Regarding Shows beyond 2014

A. Do you support having the Championship and Open Shows on the Friday before Show weekend?

YES	82.4%
NO	17.6%

B. Preferred Show Weekend

Wellington Kennel/Non Sporting	1st
Wellington Ladies	2nd
Pencarrow/Upper Hutt	3rd
Benefit Shows	4th
Hutt Valley	5th

A big thank you to everyone who participated and the committee also appreciated the additional comments that many of you contributed. The committee has taken all the comments on board and they will be extremely useful in planning future shows and events.

facebook

The Samoyed club has joined Facebook!

Look for us at: facebook.com/groups/thesamoyedclubnz

The Facebook group is a place for you to talk about your Samoyeds and everything they do! Fun outings, sharing photos, silly things they do, anything! You can also ask for advice, tips and questions to do with your fluff balls in the group!

This environment also allows other club members to interact in ways they haven't before, and actually put faces and dogs to names!

Please come and join us today!

website update

The website is in the final throes of construction and we hope to go live by mid-November.

Hopefully, the end result will be worth the delay.

We will keep you posted.

Southern Report

Telly is the new Southern Rep for the Samoyed Club and our first contributor.

Not only has Telly written an article but she has also got Cameron and Sarah to contribute to this issue as well.

So, a big thank you to our South Island contributors!

Hi there,

My name is Chantelle, but I go by the name Telly. I will be writing for the magazine, talking about things that are happening in this part of the country! I live in Rolleston, Selwyn with my husband, Mike, and my two children Cameron and Sarah. As a family we have two beautiful Samoyeds, Nina who is two and a half years old, and Zac who is six months old.

I have always loved this time of year, especially in the South Island. The blossom trees are all in bloom and the trees are re-gaining their beauty. The dogs particularly love this time of year also, it means more outside playtime without all the mess.

As the warmer months start to kick in, make sure there is plenty of water out for your precious dogs, we don't want them getting Dehydrated.

Speaking of water, The Dominion Samoyed Club based in Rolleston, Canterbury, had a few hardy people turn up for a fun day in the rain and cold. What was supposed to be a fun day with family and picnics and fun with the dogs, turned into a meet in greet and play in the sun. Judging by the pictures, the dogs (and their owners) didn't mind one little bit!

The event however is due to be rescheduled, and the new event date will be posted on our Facebook page.

We had a nasty storm roll through here in early September, which meant a lot of damage in parts of Canterbury, and people without power for a long time. My two dogs, Nina and Zac had themselves tucked up nicely inside and weren't very keen on going outside for anything, even the toilet!

Take care everyone

And a note from Sarah (7 years) and Cameron (10 years)

Having a puppy is really nice and fun.

It's fun to play with it and funny to watch it play fight with Nina.

Our puppy is really cute and cuddly because it has a cute face and it is cuddly because it cuddles all the time.

My puppy's name is Zac and I love him, he is six months old.

I love my puppy.

Sarah

Having a puppy is nice.

I live seeing Zac play with Nina, digging holes and playing around all day, playing the puppy way.

I love my puppy because he is cute and has a cute face.

Cameron

Poisonous Plants and Foods

Over the past couple of months, I have received emails about common garden plants that are actually poisonous to dogs. Being suspicious of unsolicited emails, I did a little research and was surprised to find several common plants that I would never have thought of as poisonous are just that.

According to the National Poisons Centre, the top 10 poisonous plants in New Zealand are: Arum Lily, Black Nightshade, Euphorbia, Iris, Oleander, Agapanthus, Onga Onga (NZ Tree Nettle), Hemlock, Foxglove and Rhus. These are plants that are consistently involved in reported poisonings and is by no means, a comprehensive list.

Arum Lily

Iris

Oleander

Agapanthus

Foxglove

Karaka berries

Daphne odora

Rhododendron

Daffodil bulbs are poisonous as are rhododendron shrubs and the berries of the karaka. And while the daphne odora did not make the list above, the leaves and bark are particularly poisonous for children, dogs and cats.

While all are poisonous to varying degrees, the oleander and karaka berries are extremely toxic if eaten by your dog. Even with immediate intervention, the prognosis is poor.

So beware and be aware of what is in your garden, particularly if you have an extremely curious pet.

And the same applies to foods that could poison your pets. Most owners know that chocolate is not good for dogs but probably do not realise that it can kill — a fact that was brought home to me recently by the death of a good friend's labrador who managed to get into the pantry and find a bar of chocolate.

So, below are some other things that you might not be aware of and should be avoided.

Grapes/raisins Contain a toxin that can cause severe liver damage and kidney failure

Onions/chives Regardless of form (raw, dry, cooked, powder within other foods), onions is one of worst things you can feed your dog. They contain thiosulphate which can cause anemia and damage red blood cells. Check the ingredients of any table food before giving to your dog and avoid adding onions in any form to homemade pet food recipes.

Salt Too much salt can dehydrate your pet and can cause diarrhea.

Sugar Applies to foods containing sugar. Too much sugar for dog can lead to dental issues, obesity and even diabetes.

Xylitol A sugar alcohol found in gum, candies, baked goods and other sugar-substituted items. While Xylitol causes no apparent harm to humans, is extremely toxic to dogs.

Yeast Just like yeast rises in bread, it will also expand and rise within your dog's stomach. While mild cases will cause lots of farting and discomfort, too much of it could rupture their stomach and intestines.

Notices

The photos from the Championship and Open Shows are available for purchase for $20.00 plus postage. Contact Simeon on 04 477 9975 or email Simeon@copsey.co.nz

Anyone with Nutrience dog food barcodes, please remember to keep sending them to Lynne, and thank you to those who regularly do

Remember that you need to be a member of the Samoyed Club before you can claim points!

All breeders, please remember to get your new puppy owners to join the club. With events like the Fun Days and Sammy Walks, there is plenty of ways for everyone to be involved with other members and their dogs.

Samoyed Plate Auction

Once again, thank you to Lyn and Gary Carleton who donated this plate to the Samoyed Club.

And congratulations to Glenda from Kalnovitch Kennels who won the Auction.

Some much needed funds for the club—thank you to everyone who placed a bid!

Christmas Wishes

Yet another year has just zoomed by and we are only seven weeks away from Christmas! As with previous years, we would love to have a bumper Christmas issue filled to overflowing with Christmas wishes. Please email your Christmas greetings, messages and photos to clive.litt@xtra.co.nz to be included in the Summer issue.

Please put Christmas Wishes in the subject line and make sure you have it to me by 6 December. For those who do not have access to email, you can post any messages, photos (plus witty captions) to me at PO Box 1778, Wellington 6143. Please include a return address so that any photos supplied can be returned.

SamCare

In the next issue, we will be running an update on our Samoyed rescue service (SamCare) which is coordinated by Anita Shugg who lives in Otaki.

SamCare assistance can range from helping out with training issues, advice on grooming through to rehoming.

If you feel that you could help, please contact Anita on 06 364 5785 or email: k.a.shugg@clear.net.nz.
